Becker's Liquor Co.,
Ogden, Utah.

Dear Sirs:

I have on hand at the present time, about 100 large bottles. Some of these I purchased from you and some I had sent from other Companies. What will you allow me for said bottles on a barrel of beer, and then after receiving these that I have on hand now, will you take the ones back that I receive from this purchase? I have used your beer considerably and would like to make some terms for some more and at the same time get rid of these bottles that I have on hand now.

Please let me know what you will allow me on bottles returned and oblige

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:

In reply to yours of the 11th inst. regarding credit memo for your shipment of bottles, wish to state that the barrel contained 3 11/12 dozen large bottles which we credited you with and also contained 2 dozen Pabst shape and broken bottles which were of no use to us.

Hoping this explanation will straighten the matter out to your satisfaction, we are

Yours truly,

Gentlemen:

Your letter of yesterday and check for $1.20 have just been received. Thanks very much for same.

You state in this letter that you found I was credited with 3 11/12 dozen large bottles. There is a mistake some where. I know I sent 5 11/12 dozen large bottles. I had 72 but could not get them all in the barrel so just sent 71. 3 11/12 dozen of these bottles were not your own bottles but 2 1/12 dozen were bottles that I have purchased of you. Probably this is where the mistake comes in.

Trusting you will give this your consideration,

I am

Yours very truly,

Mark S. Johnson

Dear Sir:
We have yours of the 9th inst. relative to the credit for 1 bbl. of bottles. In looking over our records we find that your account is credited with 3 11/12 dozen large at 30¢ per dozen, amount $1.20. As per your request, we are inclosing our check for same.

Yours truly,

W. H.

Dear Sirs:

About a month ago I sent a barrel of bottles (large) to you people by a man by the Name of Jess Guill. He was going to Ogden, so I had him take them for me. He was to collect for them and send me the money. Mr. Guill tried to get the money for the bottles so he tells me but could not. I think he took my name and tried to get the pay as though I had taken them myself. It would have been all right, but he tells me that you would not pay him for the bottles.

Now, I had a letter from you about a month ago stating that you would pay me .50 cents per dozen for all bottles bought of you and .35 cents for all other large bottles. I bought part of these bottles of you in Mr. Emil Hansens name, about the 24th of July and the other bottles I bought elsewhere.

Now I suppose you have not understood the matter or would have sent me the money, but as it is, I am out the bottles and the pay for them, and Mr. Guill says that he delivered them there and did not receive the pay for them.

I hope I have made this clear and I also hope that you will write me in regard to same.

Yours truly,
Mark S. Johnson.
